Personal Profile

Gained a broad grounding in programming while studying a Udemy full-stack software development course in my spare time. Discovered my passion for coding and completed multiple projects.

Currently enrolled on the Software Development Skills Bootcamp from Just IT. Conscientious and hard-working, I take an analytical approach to the challenges of the course.

An enthusiastic self-starter pursuing a career change from teaching, my technical knowledge continues to expand rapidly. Would like to get more experience in a junior role for a successful and innovative company.
